Travel Information

Arrival/Departure by plane (Karlsruhe 1st conference day)

Frankfurt (Main): (www.frankfurt-airport.com/content/frankfurt_airport/en.html) best served airport. There is a direct train connection every hour to Karlsruhe (1st conference day). By train it takes you approx. 1 hour to go from Frankfurt Airport to Karlsruhe central station.

But be aware that the airport is NOT Frankfurt Hahn. This sounds like Frankfurt but it is almost 2-3 hours away from Frankfurt in a very rural area with very poor infrastructure.

Stuttgart: (<http://www.flughafen-stuttgart.de/>) You can find some low cost airlines going to Stuttgart. Trains from Stuttgart Airport to Karlsruhe take approx. 1,5 hours and run also frequently (2/hour).

If you also take part in day 2 and 3 of the conference, you should check whether you can book your return flight from an airport near to the conference venue in Radolfzell. Many low cost companies do not charge more if you book two single flights.

Arrival by train or airport transfer by train

To check train connections please use the webpage of the German Rail http://www.bahn.de/p_en/view/index.shtml at the top right there is a little combo box where you can choose your language.

Train travel info from Baden-Baden to Radolfzell (conference days 2 and 3)

If you travel by train from Baden-Baden, where the first day of the conference ends, to Radolfzell, there is the possibility to get a special train ticket – the Baden-Württemberg ticket. It costs 25 EURO for one person, is valid on all trains besides ICE (to get to Radolfzell there is no need to take an ICE train, therefore this ticket would be sufficient). Up to four people (not compulsory family members) can join the first person by paying only 4 EURO in addition, e.g. there are three persons travelling together by train, the ticket would cost 33 EURO (25+4+4). You can get this ticket at the railway station in the service centre or at the ticket machine.

Time table:

From Baden-Baden	16:30	Track 3	RE 5327
To Radolfzell	18:59	Track 6

With this connection you do not have to change the train for the whole trip and the Baden-Württemberg Ticket is valid.

From Baden-Baden	18:30	Track 3	RE 4719
To Radolfzell	20:59	Track 6

With this connection you do not have to change the train for the whole trip and the Baden-Württemberg Ticket is valid.

After the excursion to the large scale IFBB plant in Baden-Baden the conference bus will give you a lift to the railway station of Baden-Baden, where the trains leaves for Radolfzell.

Arrival/Departure by plane (Radolfzell 2nd / 3rd conference day)

If you don't attend the first conference day but join in the second or third day, you should look for flights to:

Zürich (Switzerland): (www.flughafen-zuerich.ch). The airport is well connected to national and regional trains plus local tram and bus services. The train, bus and tram stops are all integrated in the airport complex so there are only short distances to walk to the check-in and departure areas. You can check train connections here: <http://fahrplan.sbb.ch/bin/query.exe/en&HWA=JS!ajax=yes!&> or in the German railways (see in Arrival by train). It takes 1,5 to 2 hours from Zürich to Radolfzell.

Friedrichshafen (small airport on Lake Constance): (www.fly-away.de). The airport is connected to the German Railway and has also local public transportation. Please check here: <http://www.fly-away.de/en/travelinformation/ground-transportation/>
